

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS 2016

Symposium on Housing Research in BC
November 20-23, 2016, Richmond BC

The Pacific Housing Research Network facilitates multi-sectoral housing research activities across BC and fosters dialogue and collaboration among housing researchers and stakeholders to encourage the effective application of research results to housing solutions.

The purpose of the Symposium is to encourage multi-sectoral networking and discussion of housing issues, to announce opportunities, to present research results, best practices and ongoing projects, to get input on research that is underway, and to determine housing research priorities. The Symposium will include research presentations, panel discussions, and networking opportunities.

The PHRN research symposium will be embedded in the BC Non-Profit Housing Conference, November 20 – 23, 2016, at the Sheraton Vancouver Airport Hotel (7551 Westminster Hwy, Richmond BC). The Conference is organized by the BC Non-Profit Housing Association and is the major education and networking event of the year for the non-profit housing sector in BC. For more information about the conference 2016, please visit bcnpha.ca.

We at PHRN are seeking housing research and examples of promising practices from community-based practitioners, academics (including graduate students), and government researchers from across housing sectors (i.e., policy, technical, cultural, health, social services, political, economic, social) who will help draw the connections between research and practice in creating affordable housing.

Research may be in (but is not limited to) any housing research area related to:

- Social Inclusion (homelessness, social and supportive housing, housing evaluations)
- Technical/green (construction standards, innovative design, sustainable building practices)
- Economic (related to affordable housing, funding models for housing, market trends)
- Aboriginal housing

Abstracts must be submitted by: June 1, 2016. See next page for submission details
